PEACE CONGRESS

15th Congress of Interparliamentary Union Was Opened Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, Sept. 17.—The fifteenth Peace Congress of the Interparliamentary Union was opened by Chancellor von Bielow in the chamber of the Reichstag with impressive ceremonies this evening. The attendance is unusually large and the United States is particularly well represented. The congress will last three days and the delegates expect to accomplish a great deal during that time. The last previous congress of the Interparliamentary Union was held in London in July, 1906, under the presidency of Lord Wardle and passed important resolutions in favor of international arbitration and a general revision of the neutrality laws of the nations.

The American delegation is headed by Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri and includes among its other members the Representatives Theodore P. Burton and John S. Williams of Philadelphia; Harvey H. H. of Kentucky; T. D. Nichols, Pennsylvania; R. E. Brouard, Louisiana; Joseph L. Rinehart, Kentucky; H. A. Burchfield, Pennsylvania; Wm. B. McKinley, Illinois; H. M. Goldfogle, New York; G. N. Hansen, Iowa; Arthur J. Bates, Pennsylvania; G. W. Morris, Nebraska; J. O. Patterson, South Carolina; E. F. Archeson, Pennsylvania; L. Gage Pratt, New Jersey; Irving P. Wangor, Pennsylvania; John H. Rothermel, Georgia; William Richardson, Alabama; Lemuel P. Padgett, Tennessee; E. W. Saunders, Virginia; Senator E. W. McCreary, Kentucky; Delegate Julie Lorraine, Porto Rico, and Pablo Orrego, Philippines Islands.

The association adopted also a series of resolutions recommending the closing of public watering troughs in and during outbreaks of glanders and that hydrants from which townsmen may draw water in private buckets be substituted for the type of public water troughs now in use; urging upon every state the enactment of some provision looking to the immediate eradication of tuberculosis from the cattle herds of the state institutions; recommending that state legislatures appropriate sufficient funds for the manufacture and distribution by state authorities charged with the control of contagious and infectious diseases in cattle of a vaccine discovered by department of agriculture for immunizing hog cholera.

The association adopted also a series of resolutions condemning the distribution of tuberculosis by state authorities to other veterinarians; recommending that the sanitary officers in all parts of the country where rabies is found to prevail request the muzzling for a period of six months of all dogs at large; that the act of congress be modified so as to allow the interstate shipment of tuberculosis cattle to any abattoirs at which the department of agriculture maintains inspection; and that all cattle should be tested and free from tuberculosis before being exhibited at state fairs.

Officers were elected as follows: President, W. H. Duryea; Vice-President, S. B. Nelson; Secretary, Charles E. Cotton, Minneapolis, Minn. The place and time for holding the next annual meeting were left for the officers of the association to decide.

ANNUAL ELECTION

Regular Officers of the Third Wisconsin Veterans' Association Appointed —Picture Taken This Afternoon.

The work of the Third Wisconsin Veterans' Association was continued today, the election of officers being held this afternoon. This morning all the members took a trolley ride and this afternoon they had their picture taken in front of the library building.

The total attendance now is thirty-four couples and fourteen ladies, by a vote. It was decided to hold the meeting in Janesville again next year and Dr. H. W. Osborne, who has been presiding freely for the good of his comrades, was elected President and made a short speech. Gen. B. Owen of Waukesha was named as vice-president. The secretary and treasurer holds office for life. The election found a rather enjoyable proceeding, there being more or less merriment at the humorous remarks forthcoming from all of the participants. Tonight comes the end of the meeting when a campfire that will make the auditorium sit up and listen is promised. An especially fine program has been arranged.

PROHIBITIONISTS
HOPEFUL OF GAIN

Reports From the Pacific Coast Raise Pleasant Hopes for Party.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 17.—Signs of hopeful enthusiasm are much in evidence these days about the prohibition national campaign headquarters in this city. For several weeks rosy-faced reports have been coming in from the western states and the Pacific coast region telling of the enthusiastic reception given everywhere to Eugene V. Debs, the candidate for president, who will soon return after an extensive tour of all of the country west of the Mississippi.

So many requests have been received at the campaign headquarters for pictures of the presidential candidate that the committee has ordered one million photographs to meet the demand. The pictures will be of a size suitable for framing and will be distributed freely throughout the country.

The astonishing prohibition gains in the south and west during the past few years has given rise to hope in the breasts of the party leaders that the prohibition vote in November will amount to not less than 500,000. That it will eclipse all previous figures is a foregone conclusion in their minds.

In 1900 the prohibition candidate, Woolley, received 208,911 votes, and in 1904 Dr. Swallow received 258,530. Four years ago there was no state in which the result would have been changed had the whole prohibition vote been given to the leading minority party. But it is a fact not to be overlooked that in a closely contested election these "third party" or scattering votes might easily turn the scale, one way or another, in half a dozen states.

BITTER REFORM FIGHT

ON IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Want To Get Railroad Men Out Of Control
Of Political Situation.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Concord, N. H., Sept. 17.—Folsom has a republican convention in this state caused so much excitement and bitter feeling as the one which opened here today to nominate candidates for governor and other state offices, to be voted on at the coming November election. The situation is rather interesting and the reform element, which is making the fight of its life, is awaiting the outcome of the convention with grave anxiety. The sole, and openly proclaimed aim of the reform faction of the republican party in the state is, to oust the managers of the Boston & Maine Railroad from the control of political matters which they have exercised for many years. That seems to be the only vital issue of the contest which the convention, opened here today, is to decide. Rosecrans W. Pillsbury, the owner of the Manchester Union, is the candidate of the reform element. He is warmly supported by Winston Churchill, the novelist-reformer, whose record in the reform line is still fresh in the memory of the people of New Hampshire. Mr. Pillsbury is backed by a strong element opposed to the corrupting influence upon state politics by the Boston & Maine Railroad. Yet, his success is by no means assured and, in fact, many friends of reform entertain serious doubts of Mr. Pillsbury's ability to obtain enough votes at the convention to nominate him.

The candidate of the railroad faction of the party and, as is understood, of the managers of the Boston & Maine Railroad, is Harry B. Quincy of Lincoln.

It is generally admitted that his prospects for the nomination are better than those of Pillsbury or any other candidate in the field for the gubernatorial nomination. He is said to have the support of at least 426 delegates, while Quincy's principal opponent, Pillsbury, is credited with only 148 or more and Hon. Bertram Ellis of Keene, the third man in the race is believed to be backed by about 100 to 110 delegates.

Harry H. Cheney of Lebanon is presiding over the convention and John Templeton of Exeter, Jessie M. Barton of Newport and L. Ashton Thorp of Manchester have been selected members of the committee on resolutions. This organization of the convention is considered a clear indication of the strength of the railroad faction, which is believed to be in control. It is considered unfortunate that Pillsbury as well as his backer, Winston Churchill, are extremely unpopular among a large number of republicans, who are strongly opposed to the railroad rule, but prefer it to a reform government with Pillsbury at its head. Mr. Quincy owes it to his personal popularity that the managers of the Boston & Maine Railroad, yet, his success is by no means assured and, in fact, many of the staunchest supporters of Quincy are blithely opposed to the railroad rule as the members of Pillsbury's reform faction and among them are many who were only prompted to their personal sympathies for Quincy and their personal dislike for Pillsbury and Churchill to abandon the ranks of the reformers and to give their support to the railroad candidate.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 17.—In an opinion filed yesterday the Michigan supreme court sustained as constitutional the maximum freight rate law of 1872, which has been ignored by the railroads as obsolete. The law provides a fixed rate for carrying freight in carload lots for short distances, a rate of $8 for transporting a car ten miles being stipulated regardless of the character of the freight.

where he is most likely to be successful. These canvases have been made annually for the association for more than a dozen years, but this year, as the task is greater than ever before, the work has been more systematic than ever, and some hired assistance has been used. The canvass of the business district has been made by J. T. Shuler of Shuler's Center, and Victor Farrar of New York, a member of the association, has been engaged with others in making the canvass of the Latin quarter. The association building is in charge this year of a new general secretary, Arthur Jorgeson, a graduate of the University of Nebraska. In Nebraska he was an exceptionally prominent student, in association work, athletics and various lines of university activity. He is an attractive, pleasant and earnest young man and is already becoming popular in the work here.

HARRY MOORE'S TERRIBLE FATE

GROUND TO DEATH UNDER WHEELS OF INTERURBAN CAR.

ELEMENTS OF MYSTERY

Motorman Claims He Was Lying on the Track—Lap Robe Was Found Nearby.

Harry J. Moore, the sober, industrious and faithful custodian of the Janesville Electric Co.'s street lamps, beloved by the little children who were wont to clamber aboard the wagon when he made his daily rounds and respected by all who knew him, met with a terrible fate on South Franklin street at a point of the Sculifit home and from four to five rods south of the intersection of Center and South Franklin streets, shortly before 12 o'clock last evening. The horse which he had been driving is said to have wandered to his home at 357 South Franklin street. Whether the owner had been thrown or had fallen out of the rig, or had left it to attend to the lamp at Center and South Franklin streets, are questions which no one seems able to answer. His friends say that it was his almost invariable custom to use a plush lap robe which was found near the scene of the tragedy as a precautionary device against contact with the live wires when attending to the lamps.

Crushed Beyond Recognition.
Motorman E. E. Adams of Beloit, who was bringing in the 11:40 interurban car, says that after passing school street he was lying in the road, two or three feet from the east rail, a dark object which afterwards proved to be the lap robe. When within about 26 feet of it, he says he distinguished another object on the track about ten feet north of the robe, as he applied the brakes he could see that it resembled a human body lying face downward with the head in the center of the right-of-way and the trunk across the east rail. He believed and hoped that it was a "dummy" which someone had placed there, but in any event, it was too late to avoid running over it. The wheels caught body and limbs and ground them into an unrecognizable mass of human flesh. Death must have been instantaneous. Officers Mason and Morrissey who came running to the scene were engaged for many moments in picking up the dismembered members. Many who had known Moore in his life time were in the group of horrified citizens who gathered about the scene, but none could identify him. It was not until the remains had been removed to Kinbella's Morgue and the torn garments yester'day a hunting license issued on August 30, that his identity could be established. The license gave Moore's age as 30 years. A gold watch, torn from his girdle, had stopped at 11:38.

Excessive Speed Denied.
Motorman Adams and Conductor W. J. Speaker assert that the car could not have been going at a speed of eight miles an hour and Dr. G. G. Chittenden who was one of the passengers, corroborates this statement. In support of their contention, the citizens say that the current was cut out at School street and the car was coasting; also that it is their invariable custom to slow down for the curve just north of the place where the accident occurred. Though the headlight throws large objects into relief, they claim that it is almost impossible to distinguish from the ground itself, at a distance, anything which is lying flat and low upon the rails, especially in dark places like this one where the shade trees shut out the light from other sources. The car was stopped on the north side of Center street and when the men went back to investigate they found the mangled body some eighty feet away and the folded lap robe about midway between School and Center streets.

Leaves' Wife and Child.
The late Harry Moore is survived by a wife and one adopted son. He is said to have had $1,000 insurance in one of the fraternal orders but this has not been substantiated. He was a member in good standing of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and a special meeting of that lodge is called for this evening, to make arrangements for the funeral services which will be held at St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. "He had been in our employ for five years and was one of the steadiest and most reliable men we had," says Supt. P. H. Koist of the Electric Co. The same statement is corroborated by others. He visited the police station less than half an hour before the tragedy to say a word or two in behalf of a friend named Mooney who had been arrested by Officer Sam Brown for creating a disturbance at the East Side hitch stable. Conductor Speaker who went down at far north Station 63 with the car that left here at 11:15 says that there was no sign of a rig or anyone fixing the lamps in that vicinity at the time.

No Inquest.
Upon investigation District Attorney J. L. Fisher was convinced that there was little or nothing to warrant a supposition of criminal negligence and no inquest will be called.

Special meeting of Rock Council No. 730 F. A. A. called at Dane Shockey, W. Milwaukee st., at 8 p. m. for the purpose of making arrangements for the funeral of Harry J. Moore.

THE NEW STATE	17,034
The state of Oklahoma is in the public eye just now, because of the wide advertising given by Mr. Bryan, and because of its freak banking laws and other monstrosities.	17,034
Mr. Bryan captured his information on banking from Governor Haskell, of the new state, and argues that if the plan is good for a small commonwealth, that the people generally should share in its benefits.	17,034
Banking, just now, is a popular pastime in Oklahoma, and 300 private institutions of this kind have sprung into existence during the past 12 months with an average capital of $11,000.	17,034
Applications came in so fast that the state bank commission became weary, and many applicants were refused a charter. The epidemic became so violent that all other lines of business seemed insignificant, and all because the state guaranteed depositors against loss.	17,034
If Mr. Bryan should be successful, and his banking scheme adopted, the country will be flooded with money emporiums, similar to those now decimating the new western state.	17,034
The Pan-American, published in the interests of the South American republics, thus comments on the Oklahoma freak legislation:	17,034
"It gives a jolt to the sense of superiority felt by most citizens of the United States this year. There were more freak law-makers, perhaps, in Oklahoma than in any other state this year, for Oklahoma gave promise of extending to him the glad hand, patting him on the back and telling him to go as far as he liked.	17,034
"But even the baby state, which started out with a constitution that provided for regulating nearly everything except the planets and the weather, and seemed eager to complete the job, has not produced the bumper crop of freak legislation so fondly expected.	17,034
"The new state has enacted that	17,034
hotels must supply their guests with bed sheets not less than 9 feet in length, but the idea did not originate in Oklahoma, for Texas blazed the way in this far-reaching reform.	17,034
"Once Oklahoma's solon wished to prohibit the use of cracked crockery on the table, another to make it an offense to use a roller towel more than two days, another to compel railroads to disintegrate their tickets, another to prohibit passengers on street cars from crossing legs when they have mud on their feet, and another to compel householders to beat rugs and carpets outside of the corporate limits of any town."	17,034
This sort of legislation is harmless as compared with a lot of regulative laws which have been enacted during the past few years. The nation is suffering today from this class of reform legislation, and will continue to suffer until it is modified or abolished.	17,034
LETHARGY IN THE CAMPAIGN	17,034
Almost every day someone asks the question, "Why isn't the republican party doing something, with the election only six weeks away?" The question is easily answered so far as Wisconsin and other states which are working under the primary law is concerned.	17,034
In these states there is no longer a well organized party of any kind. The successful candidates represent, in most cases, a minority constituency, and personal defeat means more to the supporters of unsuccessful candidates than party loyalty to a disorganized party.	17,034
But in many states the primary law has not yet become a factor, and yet the same spirit of indifference seems to prevail.	17,034
There are two reasons which may account for this: One, the belief that Bryan's candidacy is generally regarded as a joke. The other, that the nation is ready for a Bryan landslide.	17,034
The Gazette believes that the first of these reasons represents popular sentiment and accounts for much apparent indifference. Mr. Bryan does not represent democracy, and his third nomination for president was protested by the Cleveland element of the party.	17,034
The show of harmony which now appears on the surface, is only surface deep. Old line democracy is desparate. It had no voice in the Denver convention, but rather than hold the ticket, as it did 8 years ago, it decided to support it in the interests of harmony, and future organization.	17,034
The argument was quietly passed around that when Bryan met his third defeat with a united party behind him, he would be ready to quit, and democracy would be rid of the worst bane that ever annoyed a political party.	17,034
There are plenty of this kind of democrats, who are telling Bryan, who would never vote for him, if they had the faintest idea that he would be elected.	17,034
With the manufacturers, the railroads, the businessmen, and a large army of intelligent American workers, arrayed against him, there is but little danger of a Bryan landslide this year.	17,034
As the campaign progresses, his banking theories are being exposed, and the shallowness of man stands out more clearly than in his free silver performance.	17,034
The American people are not ready to trust affairs of government in the hands of a man whose principal stock in trade is the gift of oratory.	17,034
The Dakota land lottery, which occurs next month, is attracting wide attention, and every train is crowded with speculators who hope to draw a prize. Two hundred thousand entries are anticipated, and a city of tents, on the prairie, has sprung up to accommodate the crowd. The drawing takes place Oct. 5. The government should discover some other plan to dispose of the public domain. Some 800,000 acres is involved in the present drawing.	17,034
J. J. Hill of railroad fame was entertained on his 70th birthday, by 70 old employees, who had been with him in constant service from 28 to 40 years. The tokens of love and friendship expressed were a choice elegy to the life of the man who had done so much for the nation, as well as for the men associated with him.	17,034
W. H. Singer, the iron king, is a generous as well as a successful man. He believes in providing for his children while the money will do them some good, and so scatters around $16,000,000 at a family dinner party.	17,034
If all the Methodists lived in Mr. Cannon's district, he would be out of the running. As it is he is enjoying an amount of free advertising that would make a new breakfast food green with envy.	17,034
PRESS COMMENT.	17,034
Oh, Pshaw! Cheer Up!	17,034
Racine News: The state fair next year will be fair of this year with the date shoved ahead one notch.	17,034
Too Good Natured, Perhaps.	17,034
Chicago News: His defeat at the primaries is a joke which the humorist J. Adams Body does not appreciate.	17,034
No Beer on Grounds, Eh?	17,034
Exchange: "Milwaukee dry" at the state fair was a failure. No beer, no fun, is the rub in Milwaukee.	17,034
The Usual Way.	17,034
Oshkosh Northwestern: When a man wants to "work" a reporter he usually begins by telling how many years he has taken the paper.	17,034
Certainly a Slow Burg.	17,034
Madison Journal: Milwaukee is still counting its primary vote. And yet that slow town thinks it ought to be the capital of the state.	17,034
Not to be Sneered At.	17,034
Sheboygan Journal: Mr. Bryan says he is worth "only" $150,000. Even at	17,034
hotels must supply their guests with bed sheets not less than 9 feet in length, but the idea did not originate in Oklahoma, for Texas blazed the way in this far-reaching reform.	17,034
Once Oklahoma's solon wished to prohibit the use of cracked crockery on the table, another to make it an offense to use a roller towel more than two days, another to compel railroads to disintegrate their tickets, another to prohibit passengers on street cars from crossing legs when they have mud on their feet, and another to compel householders to beat rugs and carpets outside of the corporate limits of any town."	17,034
This sort of legislation is harmless as compared with a lot of regulative laws which have been enacted during the past few years. The nation is suffering today from this class of reform legislation, and will continue to suffer until it is modified or abolished.	17,034
Why Hughes Won.	17,034
Chicago News: Sentiment in favor of Gov. Hughes is 3,000 miles wide by 1,000 miles long, roughly speaking. Yet certain New York politicians call it "Influence from Oyster Bay."	17,034
Serving Their Purpose.	17,034
Racine Journal: The primary comes your way all right and beautiful, is it not? but with defeat there of course the people were jugged with.	17,034
That's Part of the Show.	17,034
Winneconne Leader: The state fair authorities will ask the next legislature to make the taxpayers cough up $100,000 more to be used for buildings on the fair grounds, that sum being half of what they modestly claim that they want. But what is really needed is an appropriation for fitting up a politicians' annex on the fair grounds.	17,034
Better Try to Forget It.	17,034
Evening Wisconsin: The democratic newspapers which have been assailing the Cleveland endorsement of Taft as a probable forgery, by that course admit its importance if genuine. The burden of proof is upon them to show that it is not—else they would do well to try to divert attention from it by discussing other topics.	17,034
Patriotism in Boston.	17,034
Oshkosh Northwestern: Two United States marines were recently ejected from a Boston theatre because they persisted in standing up while "The Star Spangled Banner" was being played. Boston is sometimes referred to as the center of American culture, but it is quite evident the people there could take a few special lessons in the stored away in an area overlapping themselves.	17,034
Each Stands on Own Bottom.	17,034
La Crosse Leader-Press: Wisconsin is entitled to two senators, not one casting two votes. Two years ago the people of Wisconsin also decided that it would not be wise to allow their governor to be appointed and controlled by Mr. La Follette. Thus we have now two senators and a governor, each his own man, and none controlled by one of the others. This maintains a balance of power and by preventing an irresponsible one-man government stimulates interest in public and party affairs.	17,034
All is Harmony.	17,034
Antique Journal: The persons who are looking forward expectantly for a hot time in the republican ranks over the selection of a chairman are doomed to be disappointed. There will be no row, and we do not think there will even be a contest for the position. The republicans of this state have had their fight—their family quarrel—and instead of going into the divorce court they have decided to live in harmony again and put all their fight against the democratic ticket. It will be republicanism from now on.	17,034
Plenty of Coal in Sight.	17,034
Evening Wisconsin: Those who have been filled with alarm as to the future supply of coal, by assertions on the part of so-called authorities that increasing use and waste are rapidly exhausting the supply, ought to find comfort in a statement in the Technical World magazine by the geologist of the Crow's Nest Pass Company, a Canadian coal corporation, that some think like 22,000,000,000 tons of coal the Rocky mountains and embracing the Rockies and mountains and that still further to the eastward, in the western part of the province of Assinibina, there is fully as much more, making the aggregate of these two deposits 46,000,000,000 tons. While these tremendous deposits are being worked, the coal prospector is continually "scratching the earth" in search of more, which will be found periodically in the course of time, for the alleviation of future days.	17,034
Mantling.	17,034
Madison Democrat: Persons who have studied the mechanism of the Wright aeroplane express astonishment at its simplicity. The parts are few. It is a mechanical bird driven by a motor and balanced and turned, lifted and lowered by the application of principles which were taught by the ingenious inventors by the soaring flight of buzzards of their native state. These applied principles, worked out by nice calculations as to air pressure and untiring experiments, apparently have given the machine much of the steadiness and general reasonableness of nature's winged models.	17,034
The flying machine is an accomplished fact. Needless to say, it has come to stay. Military and naval experts have been quick to see its great usefulness in war. It has instantly become invaluable for scouting purposes. Henceforth no army will take the field, no fleet of war vessels will go out to meet the enemy, without a full supply of aeroplanes. Their simplicity and low cost are minor considerations. They can be handled with exceptional facility, and are practically indestructible by the enemy's fire. If hit by military bullets small harm would be done, and the problem of winging a flying bird with artillery or even with massed rifle fire is formidable at best.	17,034
That there will be an abundance of peaceful uses for the aeroplane cannot be seriously questioned. In short, the Wrights in conquering the air have added in marvelous ways to the activities of mankind.	17,034
Self-repairing Auto Tires.	17,034
An automobile tire company has in its salesrooms on Broadway, New York city, one of the most perfect machines yet devised for demonstrating the working of a tire under road conditions. Mounted on a heavy stand, a big iron drum is driven by an electric motor. An axle and wheel are mounted over the drum with the tire in contact with it and bearing its weight. The tire is under the same pressure as it is on a loaded touring car. The test, a most severe one, consists in driving nuts, spikes, etc., into the tire and	17,034
that he's better off than the fish trust, which busted yesterday.	17,034
The Point of View.	17,034
Racine Journal: When the primary comes your way all right and beautiful, is it not? but with defeat there of course the people were jugged with.	17,034
Golden Blend Coffee suits the tastes of at least one-fourth of all the homes in Janesville. It is a coffee blended to a standard of coffee drinkers' taste and nine times out of ten it suits. The quality of sugar hardly ever varies perceptibly, yet when you buy coffee of Tom, Dick and Harry you rarely get the same quality of coffee for a half dozen times. The reason sugar never varies is because there is a standard of what sugar must be and it is made by experts. The reason coffee DOES vary is because it is bought from numerous sources, because it is not blended properly, and because the average dealer knows but little more about coffee than does the average housewife. Golden Blend Coffee never varies. It is purchased on cup tests, which means that the coffee is actually tested from a cup of coffee cooked as you would cook it for your family. It is blended in the same manner. For the past six years I have been selling Golden Blend with marked success. Nine times out of ten, a trial pound or two makes a steady customer. The reason is because it is a standard of quality and because that quality never varies.	17,034

WOODMEN OF WORLD HAD HARVEST DANCE

One Hundred Couples Gathered at Annual Dance of Order at Assembly Hall.

Last evening at Assembly hall, the annual dancing party of the Woodmen of the World was held, the dance being a harvest dance. The hall was decorated in a style appropriate to the season and to the dance, the sides of the room being decorated with ears and stalks of corn. About one hundred couples, including fifty of the members of the order, who appeared in dress uniform, danced to the pleasing strains of the music furnished by Kneff & Hatch's orchestra. The Woodmen delegation did not depart until the last dance was over, which was at one o'clock. The local branch of the order has a membership of forty-five but is growing as the local officers are working hard. They are: Council Commander, Wm. Russell; Ad. Lieut. Otto Johnson; Banker, H. D. Murdoch; Clerk, J. L. Harper; Captain, Carl Williams.

Many parents who give careful attention to their child's eyes and teeth forget that they have feet.

Yet at the tender, growing stage, these are more sensitive to shoe-discomforts than the hardened feet of man or woman. The constant irritation of tight, ill-fitting shoes robs the little ones of animal spirits, leaving his mind dull and listless.

The Buster Brown Blue Ribbon Shoe gives the child's feet "a square deal" by letting them grow as they should. Why not start the boys' and girls' feet right—in the famous Buster Brown Blue Ribbon Shoes. Manufactured by The Brown Shoe Company—the largest manufacturers of good Shoes in the world. Don't forget Buster Brown and his dog Tige, will be at our store Monday—September 21st.

POWDER MAGAZINE STRUCK BY A BOLT

ONE MAN IS KILLED AND EIGHT HURT IN OKLAHOMA.

EXPLOSION IS TERRIBLE

Fatalities in Disaster at Windsor, Mo. Now Number Twelve—Molten Metal Burns Steel Workers.

McAlester, Okla., Sept. 17.—A powder magazine used by a wholesale powder company and the Samuels Mining Company for the storage of powder was struck by lightning shortly after five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the explosion killing one man, Arthur Richards, and seriously injuring eight others. Richards' head was completely severed from the body.

The shock of the explosion shook the country for several miles, broke windows in practically all buildings within a radius of 400 yards, and even cracked plate glass in the business section of McAlester, nearly two miles away. A number of miners' houses were demolished, as well as a long string of box cars on a siding. The explosion tore a hole 25 feet deep and 100 feet across.

Windsor Death List Twelve. Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 17.—Five additional deaths as a result of the explosion of black powder at Windsor, Mo., Tuesday, occurred at the hospitals in Sedalia Wednesday. This brings the total dead up to 12. Among those who died Wednesday was Conductor A. F. Hirschberger, who, according to testimony brought out at the coroner's inquest, threw the match which caused the explosion. Ten other injured are reported as showing improvement, and all but one or two will recover.

Molten Metal Burns Workmen. Chicago, Sept. 17.—Twelve men were caught in a torrent of molten metal Wednesday at the plant of the Illinois Steel Company at South Chicago, according to a report which reached the police of the South Chicago station. All were severely injured. It is said, and one of the victims is expected to die. The name of this man is given as Robert Rowley, 7614 Saginaw avenue. Details of the accident and facts concerning the identity of the injured men were kept partially bottled up by the steel company, which made efforts to prevent outsiders learning of the affair.

Twenty Injured in Wreck. Austin, Tex., Sept. 17.—A southbound Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train was derailed Wednesday about two miles north of San Marcos, the engine and tender jumping the track and dragging with it two passenger cars, two chair cars, a mail car and a combination car. One Pullman remained on the track. Twenty persons were injured, W. A. Lee of Fort Worth probably fatally.

Found School of Business. Salem, Mass., Sept. 17.—An institution to provide education which will be of especial usefulness to men and women entering business will be established in the town of Ipswich under the will of John Burnham Brown of Ipswich and Chicago, which was filed for probate in this city Wednesday. Personal bequests amounting to about $75,000 are made and the residue of an estate estimated at more than $1,000,000 is left for the foundation of this institution.

Slave Trading Tribe Routed. Paris, Sept. 17.—Dispatches to the government from the governor general of the French Congo state that a force of 1,600 French troops under Capt. Jullien have routed the Ovadai tribe, whose territory is the center of the trade in slaves and contraband arms. The tributary's losses numbered a thousand.

POLICE COMMISSIONER BINGHAM RETRACTS STATEMENT.

Admits That Figures Concerning Crime in New York Used by Him Are Unreliable.

New York, Sept. 17.—Police Commissioner Bingham signified his return from his vacation Wednesday by publicly retracting the figures contained in an article written by him and recently published in a magazine to the effect that the Jewish population of New York furnishes one-half the criminals of the city.

"The figures used in the article," said Mr. Bingham, "were not compiled by myself, but were furnished to me by others and, unfortunately, were assumed to be correct. It now appears, however, that those figures were unreliable. Hence it became my duty frankly to say so, and to repudiate them."

His purpose in writing the article, he went on to say, was not to disclose an inquiry into the race, religion or nationality of those charged with criminality, but solely to make a plea for a secret service fund in order that criminality might be more effectively dealt with, and he wanted to impress the public with the idea of the number of foreigners with which the police have to deal.

"To indicate the necessity for additional weapons to cope with crime," said the statement, "it was pointed out that crimes of various kinds are committed by those of our population who are of foreign origin, which cannot be adequately reached by the police force as now constituted. It was only incidentally that the remarks were made which have been challenged."

The commissioner concludes with an expression of regret that "so many estimable citizens feel hurt by what I wrote without the slightest malice, prejudice or unfriendliness, for I have none," and thus without reserve withdraws the statement which was so promptly and vigorously challenged by local Jewish leaders and societies.

POLO PLAYERS ACCUSED.

Wealthy Young Men Charged with Cruelty to Ponies.

Boston, Sept. 17.—Charged with cruelty to their polo ponies in a match played at the Myopia Hunt club in Hamilton on September 9, Allan Forbes of Dedham, a member of the Boston Polo team, were served with summonses Wednesday calling for their appearance in court at Salem on Saturday.

The summonses were served by C. F. Clark and Frank Phillips of Boston, agents for the society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, which brings the complaint. Both polo players belong to wealthy and aristocratic families.

Woman Accused of Peonage. Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 17.—At the instance of Mrs. Martha E. Robertson, a negro of St. Louis, Mo., the United States district attorney Wednesday issued a warrant charging Mrs. Belle Isaacs, a widow, of Mount Pleasant, Mo., with peonage. Mrs. Robertson says her sister, Mary, has been held a prisoner against her will by Mrs. Isaacs for 33 years.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 17.—At the golden wedding dinner of himself and wife on May 27, W. H. Singer, an iron king, distributed $16,000,000 among his four children, each getting $4,000,000. Through the filling of certain papers in the Allegheny county courthouse Wednesday this came out. It later was admitted by the Singer family.

Hagen and Hearst in Louisville. Louisville, Ky., Sept. 17.—The Kentucky campaign of the Independence party was opened Wednesday night at Phoenix Hill park by Thomas L. Hagen, the candidate for president, and William Randolph Hearst.

Animal Nearly Extinct.

About 300 specimens of the Steinbok are under protection on the south-slope of Mount Rose, but, apart from that, the animal is nearly extinct in the Alps. It breeds slowly, and the efforts of the government in its behalf have helped little. In two places private herds have lately been established, and it is hoped thus to prevent the extinction of the Steinbok.

"DEM" CONVENTIONS IN FULLER DETAIL

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 17.—As the culminating feature of the Democratic state convention, which closed Wednesday, there was a notable demonstration here Wednesday night in honor of the party's national standard bearer, William Jennings Bryan, who reached the city shortly before seven o'clock and addressed a mass meeting in convention hall and overflow gatherings outside.

Presiding over the convention hall assemblage was Judge Alton B. Parker, the presidential candidate of four years ago, who took advantage of the occasion to make a personal pledge of his earnest fealty to the national ticket. As Mr. Bryan and Judge Parker stood side by side before the great assemblage the cheering wailed on.

Mr. Bryan acknowledged Judge Parker's pledge of his own support and the support of the "United Democracy of the Empire state," in words as gracious as the pledge had been extended.

Mr. Bryan expressed his gratitude for the nomination of Lieut. Gov. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler as head of the state ticket and paid a personal tribute to him.

Empire State Ticket.

Except in one instance, there was complete harmony in the state convention Wednesday. With the exception of Phillip P. Farley, state engineer and surveyor, all the candidates were nominated by acclamation. Farley was fought by Senator McCarron. The ticket in full is:

Governor, Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler of Dutchess; Lieutenant governor, John A. Dix of Washington; secretary of state, John S. Whalen of Monroe; attorney general, George M. Fairman of Schenectady; controller, Martin H. Glynn of Albany; state engineer and surveyor, Phillip P. Farley of Brooklyn; treasurer, Julius Hauser of Suffolk; assistant justice of the court of appeals, Albert Haight of Erie.

Nominated in Connecticut.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 17.—In many ways the Democratic state convention which Wednesday placed in the field a state ticket and a nominee for representative-at-large in congress, was unique in the annals of gatherings of delegates of a political party in Connecticut. It was a convention in which one man was almost absolute master of the situation. That man was former Gov. Thomas M. Water, whom nearly every delegate in the convention wanted to have nominated for governor, but who found it a physical impossibility to respond to the call of the party. By his speech, given with much of the old-time vigor, he led the delegates from their intentions and made them ratify the name of Judge A. Weston Robertson of New Haven for governor.

The rest of the ticket is as follows: Lieutenant governor, Rollin U. Tyler; secretary of state, Andrew J. Droughout; state treasurer, George Michael; state controller, John M. Brady; congressman-at-large, Christopher Avery.

Serious Fire in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 17.—A spectacular fire Wednesday night at Twenty-sixth street and the Michigan Central railroad swept the Central Lumber yard of M. J. Thelen, destroyed the frame residence of William Watson and John Ranch's general repair shop, and for a time threatened the destruction of the Parker Wool & Co. packing houses. The packing mill and box factory of the Central Lumber Company were destroyed together with the stock of seasoned lumber. Loss estimated from $50,000 to $60,000.

Forest Fire in Ohio. Zanesville, O., Sept. 17.—Sparks from an engine started a fire in a big forest on the bank of the Muskingum river five miles south of this city Wednesday night. In spite of the efforts of trappers and farmers the flames are spreading rapidly and are menacing residences and farm buildings.

Failed to Keep His Word.

Lableche, the French dramatist, was once asked to support as a candidate for the academy a certain literary mendicant, but hesitated for a long time, and yielded only when he was told that if the ambitious author should fail to be elected he would die of it. Failure, nevertheless, did come, and the following year, when a second vacancy occurred, Lableche's vote was once more solicited in the man's behalf. "No," shouted Lableche in vehement indignation, "I will not vote for a man who does not keep his word. He did not."

RIPPLES OF MIRTH

Wanted A Pledge.

The seven or eight men holding down two seats in the open car were talking politics and paying no attention to the one single man out of their crowd. He was an humble-looking man, and he didn't appear to have any opinions to give out, but in the conversation one of the others add'd him:

"You see, we are all Taft men here."

"Yes."

"And I suppose you are the same?"

"Well, I don't know about that."

"But you like the man, don't you?"

"Oh, yes."

"And isn't the platform sound?"

"Yes."

"Then, what's the matter that you are not avenging your hate?"

"I am simply waiting for Mr. Taft to pledge himself. He's all right on finance, tariff and other big things, according to my way of thinking; but there is one little matter of vital interest to me and I want his pledge before I do any shouting."

"And what's that?"

"That is, how does he stand on the buckshot-pledge question? Is he for 'em or agin 'em? Is he for the blackberry pie and the cotton and cottonseed oil, or is it all wrong and to be substituted by peach or pumpin'?"

I want his pledge, gentleman, and am waiting for it.

The Farmer—That's all right. Let them eat all they want. I'll keep 'em away from the table for the next two or three days, and I'll charge their daddies for the apples besides.

FOR HIS LAST RESTING PLACE. This Man Has Prepared Monuments for Himself and Wife.

The contemplation of one's last resting place is not an agreeable pastime for the normal human being. He prefers to prepare himself for life rather than death.

This is not the case with John S. Cook, a prosperous farmer of Newton county, Georgia, who has just completed at a cost of $1,800 monuments to himself and wife and a walled tomb in which their bodies are to be placed after death. Mr. Cook has taken great delight in the work and goes out to the cemetery frequently to contemplate the shafts. Each shaft bears an appropriate inscription, the date of death only being left blank.

Mr. Cook is related to prominent families in the section in which he lives. He has several married children and he and his wife are living all alone in their little home in Covington. He is a member of the Primitive Baptist and also of the Missionary Baptist church.

A Cowboy's Breakfast. T. B. Sweet, a Topeka capitalist, stopped at Abilene in the early days at the best hotel in the city, relates the Kansas City Journal. He asked for his breakfast. The waiters took no special notice of his appearance, or at least did not guess that his appetite was different from the average patron's.

"Give me some eggs," said Mr. Sweet, and waited.

In a little while the waitress came back. In a bowl she had a full dozen eggs, all hard boiled.

Sweet gasped and ate what he could, protesting that she had brought him too many and that he didn't just know how hard boiled eggs would strike him for his first meal of the day.

"Why, that's a regular cowboy's breakfast," responded the waitress.

Bought Crusoe's Firelock. Hulda B. White of Philadelphia has purchased the firelock used by Alexander Solkirk, Defoe's original Robinson Crusoe on the island of Juan Fernandez, at a sale in Edinburgh. The relic has an authentic pedigree, and for a long time was in the possession of Solkirk's relatives in Fifeshire, Scotland. The price paid for the gun was $100.

Leading Paper Making States. In the matter of paper production, New York, Maine and Wisconsin rank first, second and third, respectively.

Too Much Success.
Too much success is that which is gained by the sacrifice of something worth more than itself. The great objection to it, outside of its own undeniability, is that it disturbs the balance of things. It is unstable, impudent, the exploit of imperfectly civilized people, carrying in its train the seeds of its own dissolution.—North American Review.

In Need of Teachers.
A shortage of 1,200 school teachers is reported in Oklahoma. The cause is said to be the small salaries of women teachers. The club women declare that if the salaries of the women teachers were made to equal those of the men the shortage would cease to exist. In the meantime women out of employment are looking to Oklahoma for places during the coming school term.

MISS HANDSCHIN ON TOUR OF THE WEST

Well Known Janesville Lady Writes a Chatty, Interesting Account of Her Observations.
Miss M. Handschin, a professional nurse well known in Janesville, is enjoying a three months' vacation tour in the west and has written the following interesting letter to Dr. E. E. Womble:

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 10, 1908.
According to promise will tell something of my trip and sight-seeing, something of my trip and sight-seeing, left Chicago Aug. 7th at 11 p. m. with tourist ticket reading via the Burlington, the Ia. Grande, and the Southern Pacific coast line. The first stop of any length was one hour and twenty minutes at Denver, on Sunday morning. Over Monday, in an open observation car, we saw the wonderful and awe-inspiring Royal Gorge. Arrived at Salt Lake City at 5 p. m., stopping over there for nearly 24 hours with some fellow travelers. Went that evening to Saltair, the popular outdoor resort of Salt Lake. It is fifteen miles by rail—a long distance over salt water. There is an immense pavilion, for dancing and lunching, with exceptional facilities for dispensing drinks, ever known device for money-giving, and fine arrangements for bathing. A very heavy thunder shower somewhat marred the pleasure of the trip.

After a much-needed night's rest, I was awakened by the barking and fighting of dogs. (More dogs of every kind, size and description, running around in Salt Lake than any place I ever saw.) Took trip of an hour and half in sight-seeing auto about city. Saw all points of interest. Of course the first and foremost were the Mormon temple and tabernacle and the home of the founder and his wives, the Salt Palace and many wide clean avenues and streets lined with beautiful spacious homes.

Owing to late train I was enabled to attend the organ recital at tabernacle at noon, lasting one half hour. It was beautiful and the acoustic arrangements of building are certainly wonderful.

I finally got off from Salt Lake, about four or five hours late. To Denver we were on time almost to minute, but went from bad to worse in the matter of delays the further we went.

On leaving Chicago it was terribly hot, and my first night out of Salt Lake I was so cold I could not sleep until porter closed my window and gave me an extra blanket.

My next day, Wednesday, Aug. 12th, it was my only really tiresome day. It was extremely hot, and we traveled for hours through white dusty Nevada desert. Was glad when in the evening at 10 p. m. our car came to a standstill at 100 yards at Oakland, where it was left for about twenty hours.

In the morning refreshed by a good night's rest, right beside the cooling splashing waters of San Francisco went to visit at the home of their son, Martin Hansen.

Mrs. Kittle Marshall expects to leave our car I inquired whether to take umbrella or raincoat; was assured I'd not need them. In San Francisco I found such a heavy mist that home word call it rain. People carrying umbrellas and wearing coats and furs. We were all glad to return to shelter of our car, chilled to the bone. Going on at six; we had about one and a half hours at San Jose, one of the garden spots of California. We could see very little owing to darkness.

On Friday, Aug. 14th, we finally arrived at Los Angeles, after passing through innumerable valleys lined with fruit orchards—peach, apricot and plum; also groves of English walnuts. It seemed very good indeed to land once more.

I went to Y. W. C. A. a beautiful new building for my mail. Found a letter from Julia Echlin (with whom I'd been corresponding), who has gone to Long Beach for the hot months. Was nicely located, but a bit lonely and invited me to come and share her home. So I went by electric car twenty miles and owing to her hospitality was at once installed and pleasantly settled within a few hours of my arrival.

Long Beach is a typical beach town, wonderfully progressive, and "just look out for your money if you come out here." Have since seen Mt. Lowe, and in Long Beach celebrated held from Sept. 1st to 5th called "Festival of Sea" of which, I may tell you later. Miss Echlin and I called on the Proctors from Janesville, where we were very pleasantly entertained. I have visited several times and am now enjoying hospitality of Mr. and Miss Barlow at Los Angeles. Great country, "this," but I am always glad to return to Janesville.

Sincerely,
MISS M. HANDSCHIN.

JOHN HACKETT ADAMS OF BELoit TO ENTER FIELD OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

John Hackett Adams of Beloit, known as "Judge" Adams to his many Janesville friends, is to become a member of the advertising staff of the Milwaukee Sentinel and with his family will soon take up his residence in the metropolis. He will have entire charge of the work on the "annual" issued by that newspaper. As he was at one time advertising manager of the Beaumont, Texas, Enterprise, this line of endeavor will not be new to him. The Beloit Concrete Stone Co., of which he has been president and principal stockholder, will continue under a new management.

What the Eyes Show.
Gray eyes are said to denote intellect and well-balanced character. Brown eyes, with a touch of hazel, show courage, intelligence and affection. Black eyes show intelligence and courage. Light-blue eyes often show deceit and cruelty. Hazel eyes are loving and ardent, but impulsive and do not show a high order of intellect. Hazel eyes with arched eyebrows show fierce temper. Velvety brown eyes show intense feeling and are not often to be trusted.

RACING FEVER HAS STRUCK LINE CITY

Speed Contests Held Each Wednesday Afternoon on Track at Fair Grounds.

Especial to THE GAZETTE.
Beloit, Wis., Sept. 1.—Beloit horsemen have gotten the racing fever and on each Wednesday afternoon the race track at the old fair grounds in the scene of some interesting speed contests. The old track was once the scene of many a fast mile and although it has not been kept in condition for the past couple years and though it has been almost entirely washed away by the heavy rains, it is still good footing for a half mile.

Not only have Beloit horsemen manifested an interest in the weekly matches but also number from other points in Rock county and two or three from the vicinity of Roseau, Minn., have attended at various times.

The third meet was held yesterday afternoon and nine horses were entered. In the class "A" race, the fastest time was made in the last heat by "Sultan" Charley Beakley's eight-year-old stallion, "Axino" belonging to Dr. G. E. Cleophas. It is a young colt and won the first heat by a close margin, giving "Sultan" a close rub for first in the two following heats. W. C. Wellerick's gray mare, "Silver Queen", was good for one second and two thirds. "Pasoum" driven by William Baldwin of Roseau, shows good control in the harness and promises to make some excitement in the future.

Class "B" was won by "Thelma" belonging to E. Simon of South Beloit. "Clinton Clinton" driven by E. Dix and Clinton was good for two seconds.

We were all glad to return to shelter of our car, chilled to the bone.

About 8:30 o'clock last evening engine No. 1364 drawing a freight extra came to a sudden standstill on the switch-track of the Brand warehouse. For some unknown reason the train took the switch track instead of the main track, and when it came to the termination of the switch the engine stopped with sufficient force to nearly stand it on the head.

The short and thick-set "body," however, seemed to have no particular appreciation of the beauties of nature as exhibited by West One Hundred and Eighteenth street on a summer's evening. If anything, he could apparently have desired a cooling breeze; for, after a moment's doubtful consideration, he unbuttoned his waistcoat and heaved a sigh of relief.

"Most assuredly," The gray man bent and inspected the names again. "I am hunting up an old friend," he explained, carelessly; "a man named Simmons—know him in college—down on his luck—wrote me yesterday. There he is: Fourth door, east. I'll see you when I come down, I hope, Mr. Hickey."

The automatic lock clicked and the door swung open; the gray man passed through and up the stairs. Hickey, contentedly ignoring the existence of the policeman, returned to his post of observation.

At eight o'clock he was still there, looking bored.

At 8:30 he was still there, wearing a puzzled expression.

At nine he called the adoring-hallboy, gave him a quarter with minute instructions, and saw him disappear into the hallway of No. 205. Three minutes later the boy was "buck, breathless but enthusiastic."

"Miss Simmons," he explained between grins, "says she ain't never heard of nobody named Matthiand. Somebody rang her bell a while ago an' apologized for disturbin' her—said he wanted the folks on the top floor,

I guess yer man went across the roofs; them houses is all connected, and yuh can walk clear from the corner here half-way up, tub. Nineteenth street, on Sain't Nicholas avnico."

"Uh-huh," laconically returned the detective. "Thanks." And turning on his heel, walked westward.

The policeman crossed the street to detain him for a moment's chat.

"I guess it's all off, Jim," Hickey told him. "Some one must've tipped that crook off. Anyway, I ain't goin' to wait no longer."

"I wouldn't neither," agreed the uniformed member. "Say, who's yer friend yeh was talkin' tub, 'white no?"

"Uh-huh," laconically returned the detective. "Thanks." And turning on his heel, walked westward.
